Lyn Valley Classic: Where Passion Meets Spectacle for Charity

Lynton & Lynmouth, North Devon – Engines are roaring and excitement is mounting as the Lyn Valley Classic makes its triumphant return today, delivering an unmatched spectacle of horsepower, heritage, and heart in one of the UK's most breathtaking locations.

Now firmly established as one of the most unique and picturesque charity motoring events in the South West – and possibly the country – the 2025 Lyn Valley Classic features over 400 stunning vehicles from across the automotive spectrum. From gleaming Supercars to cherished Classics, agricultural favourites and quirky rarities, this is a celebration of engineering, community, and pure passion.

Famous Faces Return to the Valley

After thoroughly enjoying the event last year, Jodie Kidd – racing driver, model and car enthusiast – and internationally renowned fashion designer Alice Temperley MBE are both returning to the Lyn Valley Classic in 2025. Their love for classic cars and support for community-driven events makes them a perfect match for the spirit of the show. Visitors are encouraged to keep an eye out – you might just spot them admiring a rare Lister Jaguar or chatting with fellow enthusiasts!

A VIP Welcome for Young Car Enthusiasts

This year's event shines even brighter with the arrival of some very special VIP guests – the talented winners of a poster competition held at Lampard Community School. These creative young minds captured their favourite cars in, imaginative artworks, earning them exclusive access to the show. Look out for these young enthusiasts wearing their VIP lanyards and make them feel welcome – they are the future of the classic car scene, and we can't wait to share the magic with them.

Exhibitors and visitors alike are encouraged to say hello, answer questions, and share stories with these inspiring students as they tour the showgrounds with eyes full of wonder and admiration.

Celebrating Dedication

Among this year's showstoppers is one very familiar face – a legendary exhibitor who has travelled thousands of miles over the past 11 years to attend the Lyn Valley Classic. Showcasing three to four vehicles every year, his unwavering dedication has made him a beloved part of the event's DNA.

It's no exaggeration to say he's one of our absolute favourites, embodying the spirit and loyalty that make this show so special.

More Than Just Cars

While car lovers will revel in the mechanical marvels on display, there's plenty to enjoy for the whole family. Expect a bustling array of street food, refreshments, and local attractions that highlight the best of North Devon. Whether you're here for the revs or the views, there's something for everyone.

A Show Like No Other

Set against the stunning twin villages of Lynton & Lynmouth, nestled between Exmoor cliffs and the sea, the Lyn Valley Classic is more than an event – it's an experience. Where else can you admire a Lamborghini while listening to gulls echo around the valley or discuss horsepower next to a Victorian water-powered railway?

Don't miss your chance to be part of this unique celebration of motoring passion, community spirit, and charitable giving.
